

Mission Statement

To provide our customer superior export sales and service including competitive pricing, technical support, and freight forwarding services in timely manner.

Since 2001 Eggertsson Trading Inc. has been supplying parts and components to the Refrigeration and Air Conditioning (HVACR) industry. E.T.I. is a complete export sales and service, providing its worldwide customers with competitive pricing, technical support and freight forwarding services.

E.T.I. maintains its office facilities in Pompano Beach, Florida, with driving distance only 40 minutes from Miami international air port and 15 minutes from Fort Lauderdale international air port and Port Everglades. We can also deliver your goods to the your designated forwarder or using your designated forwarder on collect bases.

Please browse through our website www.eggertsson.com and look at our product offering and our pricing specials. Also please remember that even you don't see your product or brand name on our website, do not hesitate to send us your requirements. We will respond to you with our most competitive pricing or other quoting possibilities.

We look forward to working with you.
